Wagering on America's Fastest Athlete can be as elementary as you want it to be. The choice is yours. You don't have to be a sophisticated handicapper to enjoy a day at the races. But understanding a little about wagering will enhance your experience!

This guide is divided into three sections, and is compared to a school experience. The first section, Elementary School-Getting Acquainted With Your Track, covers basic information on track accommodations, the types of wagers commonly offered at American Quarter Horse racetracks and some easy wagering options. The second section, Middle School, talks about exotic wagers that are easy for beginners. Section three, High School, familiarizes newcomers with more sophisticated methods for making selections.
