

OUTSIDE SCHOLARSHIPS

The following institutions have identified scholarship funding available for members of the American Quarter Horse Association and or American Quarter Horse Youth Association. Application(s) for these programs should be submitted through their organization.

College Aggies Online

CAO equips college students with a vested interest in agriculture with the tools to be confident advocates using social media and connects them with other young people who are active in agricultural organizations around the country. Participants are eligible to compete for various grants and scholarships ranging from $2,500 to $5,000.

For more information, please visit the College Aggies Online (CAO) website at: www.collegeaggiesonline.com

Krissa Welshans, College Aggies Online
Animal Agriculture Alliance
(703) 562-5160

Lindenwood University

St. Charles, Missouri

Lindenwood University President Dr. James D. Evans has announced the American Quarter Horse Association Scholarship Program. Four awards are available ranging from $2,500-$9,000 annually to top high school graduates who have demonstrated significant academic and youth leadership within the American Quarter Horse Association.

For more information, please visit Lindenwood University's website at: <http://www.lindenwood.edu/financialAid/scholarships.cfm>

Joe Parisi, Dean of Day Admissions
Lindenwood University
(636) 949-4812

Oklahoma State University

Stillwater, Oklahoma

Ross and Billie McKnight of Throckmorton, Texas have established a generous Oklahoma State University scholarship program designed especially for students from rural areas of Western Texas. FFA and 4-H involvement, along with other leadership activities, such as community service, job experience, and high school government positions are used to help identify students for this award. McKnight recipients receive a full out-of-state tuition waiver for all four years of college, plus $5,000 for each of their first two years at OSU. This is a competitive scholarship program and awards are limited.

For more information, please visit Oklahoma State University's website at:
<https://financialaid.okstate.edu/future-freshmen-scholarships>

Cassi S. Rash, West Texas Admissions Counselor
OSU Office of Undergraduate Admissions
(806) 323-9917

Shannon Burwash Memorial Award

Calgary, Alberta

Established to honor the legacy of Shannon's love for the horse and her contributions to the horse industry, the award will benefit Canadian post-secondary students in any field of study, with preference for those pursuing agriculture, agri-business or equine-oriented studies.

For more information, please visit The Calgary Foundation's website at:
<http://www.thecalgaryfoundation.org/>

The Calgary Foundation
700-999 8th Street
Calgary, AB T2R 1J5
(403) 502-7700

How to add a Scholarship?

If your organization offers a scholarship for members of AQHA and or AQHYA, and you would like to be added to our list of funding agencies, please contact the American Quarter Horse Foundation Manager of Programs, Laura Owens at (806) 378-5034 or by email at lowens@aqha.org.